

The problem with the Trinity Doctrine is the 'Trinity god'

"You shall have no other gods before Me."

Exodus 20:3

The 'Trinity god' is a strange god. Everything about the 'Trinity god' is strange. The Trinity god is strange because the Trinity god is unscriptural.

The Catholic church developed the 'Trinity Doctrine' in what is known as 'The Dark Ages'. It was during this time that the Catholic Church dominated Christianity and unfortunately established many false doctrines that would shape the Church's beliefs and practices for centuries to come.

Most of these doctrines are provably false and unscriptural. Today, these Catholic doctrines from the 'Dark Ages' are scoffed at by Believer's and Bible scholars alike. (Examples: Purgatory, Indulgences, Mary worship, praying to the many dead saints, the worship of relics and artifacts, etc.)

In the 'Dark Ages' the Roman Catholic church ruled supreme. During this time they would not allow the Bible to be printed, or read by Believers. Catholic church services were conducted in Latin, so the common people could not understand what was being said.

As difficult as it is to imagine today, anyone who questioned the Catholic church or its doctrines, would be excommunicated (meaning they would go to hell) tortured, and many times killed. During this time, to question or deny the 'Trinity Doctrine' was a death sentence for a Believer.

Thankfully, Believer's today have their very own Bibles, they can read, they can question, they can seek the truth from the very words of The Almighty Father Himself. HalleluYah!
